Fair, Continued Warm Tonight and Tomorrow; Gentle Winds.

For the District of Columbia and Maryland, fair, continued warm tonight and tomorrow, gentle northeast winds, becoming southerly tomorrow.

For Virginia, fair tonight and tomorrow; gentle to moderate shifting winds. For West Virginia, fair tonight and tomorrow.

The western disturbance has made but little progress since yesterday morning, and it now extends from Minnesota northwestward into southern Saskatchewan. It is considerably cooler west of the Missouri river, with heavy frosts or freezing temperatures in the southern portions of Utah and Nevada and the western portions of Colorado and Wyoming. To the eastward high temperatures prevail, except in New York and New England.

There will be showers tonight or tomorrow in the upper lake regions, while in the lower lake region, the Ohio valley, Tennessee, the east gulf and Atlantic states the weather will be generally fair.

Temperatures will not change materially. The winds along the New England coast will be moderate north and northeast; on the middle Atlantic coast moderate northeast to east; on the south Atlantic coast gentle to moderate and shifting, except northeast on the Florida coast; on the east gulf coast gentle northerly, becoming variable. Steamers departing today for European ports will have moderate northerly winds with fair weather to the Grand Banks.

They're Wonderful Values==

Your special attention tomorrow, please, to this line of Plain Blue Flannel and Unfinished Worsted "Pinch-back" Suits at $15

We are not exaggerating when we say they are "wonderful" values. They have the Norfolk-back model, which of all the season's styles is the best—and of all Norfolk backs these are the most effective. And the Plain Blue—either Flannel or the finished Worsted—is the most popular weave. A combination of cut and cloth which is consistently smart.

Now just a word about the price—and the value. Frankly, without our own workrooms to produce them for us it couldn't be done. We know you'll find $15 Suits everywhere. But they look it. In these, however, there is the quality that goes into better grades, and makemanship which has no equal. You'll agree this is so when you see these Suits and try them on.

Third Floor.

Bring the Boys Here Tomorrow.

Why we say tomorrow is clearly evident in the following special offerings of Wool Suits for the larger Boys and Wash Suits for the little chaps. There's a choice you don't get very often.

With Every Boy's Wool Suit we shall give FREE a Genuine Horsehide Base Ball—Second Floor.
